Bonds will Bring Blessings

"Over the top and give them—well, more than that. Torment isn't enough for the bloody Huns."

Liberty Loan Day was fittingly observed throughout the country and the millions came rolling in to swell the three billion dollar mark.

If you intend buying a Liberty Bond you will have to do it right away. The time is about up. Your last chance to show your appreciation for and loyalty to your government.

An investigation is under way to determine if the report is true about the inhuman treatment accorded American prisoners by Germany, and if found to be true America will retaliate. Well, just as well begin the retaliation now. The miserable Hun will do anything and everything inhuman to the enemy. We have been treating their prisoners of war far better than they deserve because a German (the product of the modern Prussian army) has neither conscience nor soul in the true sense and is little removed from the beasts of the field.

Last week a man was bragging about how many Liberty Bonds he had purchased and a certain wise citizen overheard the remarks and vouchsafed the following information: "He holds less than $500 worth of bonds which he bought at a big discount from people who needed the money." In other words he did not pay far for any. You can't sometimes tell about these things" is a true saying.

"There is not enough room in this great world for the German flag and the American flag, and we are going to make the American flag fly over Berlin before we get through." Secretary William G. McAdoo told the railroad men at El Paso and the southwest at a mass meeting.

HELP FEED YOURSELF

Hoe for Carolina! Hoe for America! Hoe for liberty! This is to be North Carolina's war garden slogan for the year 1918. Her 250,000 soldiers of the soil will scratch-scratch with their hoes to the tune of this slogan and at the same time will be doing their duty in the trenches of their own back yards, vacant lots and broad fields. Mr. Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the national war garden commission, says there is no greater patriot in the country, except the man who goes to the trenches; than the man or woman who can say: "I have helped to feed myself."

"BADGES OF HONOR"

"Wear half-soled 'britches' and half-soled shoes," said Secretary of the Treasury William G. McAdoo, on his recent tour of the South. "They are badges of honor. I wear them myself and I am glad to recommend them to you. I like to think that at this time when there is such a scarcity of leather I am releasing some for the use of a soldier standing in the mud and water of a trench over there. I like to think that if my 'britches' are patched there may be more wool to go into the uniforms of the men who need its protecting warmth as they wait for the attack on our foes. And as for eating corn bread, I was raised on it, and no man ought to get too proud to go back on his raising. Wheat is the best way in which food can be sent across the ocean, and it is needed for our men and our allies. God knows no American citizen ought to be unwilling to eat corn bread now."

SLACKERS WHO REFUSE TO RECOGNIZE THE DANGER

There are endless numbers of Americans today, fat, sleek and well-fed, wealthy as of yore, who have pooh-poohed and derided the very idea of a German menace to this country. There are thousands of American citizens, men and women, who have refused to make any sacrifice whatever while our American boys are dropping beneath the shells of the Hun in France; they are the men and women who, while shouting patriotism from the housetops, continue to ignore the plea of their government in the matter of wheatless and meatless days. Then there is a great many of men and women who continue to enjoy all the luxuries they have known in the past, while grumbling and snarling at every fresh call for funds wherewith to carry on the war. Perhaps now these various types will pause and realize that the pictures which have conceived the hellish heels of Hunnish hordes invading the soil and homes of America were not the wild dreams of fanatic patriots. A year ago most of us would have laughed to scorn the suggestion that Russia surrender bag and baggage to the German invader, but how about the accomplished fact?

What has happened to Russia could easily happen to the United States of America if lazy, shiftless and unpatriotic citizens—call them Bolsheviks, if you will—continue to "lie supinely on their backs" with Germany's sword at our very throats. Must it take such scenes of horror as rolled over Belgium and France to make our people realize that the country is at war?—Greensboro Daily News

Revival Services at First Baptist

A series of meetings began at the First Baptist church Sunday. Rev. John J. Wicker, D. D., of Richmond, Va., a well-known minister, is doing the preaching. He has held big meetings in various parts of the country. Dr. Broughton, the noted evangelist, says that the Rev. Mr. Wicker is the best man he ever had to assist him.

HIGH POINT PROOF

Should Convince Every High Point Reader.

The frank statement of a neighbor, telling the merits of a remedy, bids you pause and believe. The same endorsement By some stranger far away Commands no belief at all. Here's a High Point case. A High Point citizen testifies. Read and be convinced.

F. C. Remfrey, 512 S. Main St., says: "I was so bad with kidney trouble I didn't believe there was a cure for me. My back and limbs were so sore I couldn't get up from a sitting position without assistance. The kidney secretions were scanty and highly colored in passage. I looked badly and felt worse. I tried medicines faithfully, but didn't get a cure until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. A few boxes of this medicine put me in good health."

OVER THREE YEARS LATER Mr. Remfrey added: "I can never praise Doan's Kidney Pills too highly in return for the good they did me a few years ago. I confirm every word of my former statement."
